1. I have many friends who are very dear to me. But my best friend is Ava.

We met on the first day of the school. All the kids were crying. I sat at the 2nd desk and started crying as well. I was crying loudly, looking around and stopped when I saw a girl on the last bench. That girl with a small ponytail wasn't crying. Weird! Maybe her parents didn't love her, I thought.

Finally, all the kids stopped crying within a week, however, I didn't give up and cried the whole month. The teacher then made me sit next to the girl who never cries. Guess who? Ava! And we became friends.

Ava has always been confident. Now she is one of the best players in our school's volleyball team. She wants to play in the Olympics one day. Ava is also very good at studies. She has excellent marks and her projects are always the most creative.

It's amazing how closely Ava and I resemble each other. We both have wavy fair hair and blue eyes. Ava is slightly taller and slimmer, but people often mistake us for sisters.

Ava is very cheerful and sociable, she has many friends, but we've been best friends since we were 5! We used to fall out and not talk for days, but now we think it was silly and we both used to be foolishly stubborn. True friends can always talk and be there for each other when one of them is unhappy.
